"CHECKERS", the female boxer dog that has ruled our home for the past eight years or so, had her picture in the paper last week.

She willingly posed with Virgil Williamson, the mail carrier in our area, to illustrate the new weapon that has been issued postmen to ward off canines that traditionally make letter carriers' routes quite hazardous at times.

The carriers now carry an aerosel spray can that contains a harmless repellent. When a dog is just about to go into its nipping act, the mailman just sprays away. And the dog retreats.

In posing with Virgil, "Checkers" acted as a little lady. This was in contrast to the many instances in the past when she has forced mailmen to retreat. So it wasn't necessary to test her reaction to the repellent.

We doubt very much, however, that she would have reacted in the manner described in the circular issued by the post office explaining the new spray. Postal officials apparently did not have the boxer breed in mind.

We quote:

"Without a whimper, the dog will put his tail between his legs and retreat"...

The boxer's tail is not suited for that. Their stub just won't reach that far.

PARKING CARS, off-street or on-street, in this day of wheels continues to be a bothersome problem in cities large or small.

Recently we ran some pictures taken at approximately the same time of day that showed that while there was ample room in the junior college parking lot between Rincon and Campbell avenues maintained, the residential streets near the college were filled with parked cars of college people.

Many of the residents who live on these streets applauded this pictorial display as a visual aid for an everyday problem they face.

One caller, for example, suggested we come right over and take a picture of her street which apparently, in her opinion, more emphatically illustrated the situation than the one of Grant and Second St. that had appeared.

We realize that it is just plain human nature on the part of college personnel to use the streets, if there is an available space, rather than take the time to drive to the college parking lot.

But we still don't feel that the 40-minute parking limit, as advocated by the police department, is the answer.

There are times when it takes longer than that to get a hair cut.

And we don't think shoppers appreciate

On San Tomas Expressway

County committee bans Rincon-Latimer openings

Indications were this week that Rincon and Latimer will remain blocked when the San Tomas Expressway is constructed through Campbell.

Campbell's pitch to get the two streets "unblocked" failed to generate any tangible support at the County Trafficways Committee meeting Friday.

But it was conceded by the group that maybe overpasses for the two streets might be allowed, if the city would pay for them.

Members of the committee indicated that because of the technical report of their subcommittee they would definitely reject the proposal of grade level crossings for the two streets.

The county highway group, however, left the door open slightly. They directed the technical group to study the cost of building overpasses for the two streets (Rincon and Latimer) and report at the December meeting.

It was condeded that perhaps overpasses might be allowed. That is, provided the City of Campbell picked up the tab for them. The estimated cost of such crossings range from $500,000 to $700,000.

C. of C. moves

It was moving time for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce this week.

On Monday, the C. of C. office was shifted to the Country Woman's clubhouse at First and Campbell (272 Campbell Avenue) from its location for the past few years at 33 N. First.

The Chamber will occupy part of the museum portion of the building. Through a mutual agreement, the quarters will be rent free in exchange for the C. of C.'s cooperation in permitting the historical museum operated by the woman's club to be open to the public daily.

In the accompanying photos (above), Paul Landwehr, C. of C. manager, and Mrs. Virginia Williamson, secretary, are pictured getting adjusted to their new quarters. (That antique buggy, however, was not used to transport their office fixtures. We just put 'em in there for the effect.)

RAIN DROPS

Another .51 inches of rain fell during the past week, according to the Campbell Water Company, rain gauge, bringing the season's total to 3.77 inches.

Planners consider 250-unit apartment

Planning Commission members were to preview plans for a 250-unit apartment building with private swim and tennis club facilities at the commission meeting last night.

Plans for the $1 1/2 million project were submitted for approval by Fred Sahadi. The apartment building is to be located on approximately eight acres on Union Avenue south of Campbell Avenue.

Up for approval at the Planning Commission meeting also were plans for a service station at the northeast corner of Campbell Avenue and La Pradera Drive. The plans were submitted by Amelia Vahl.

Also up for 'S' approval were the plans for an addition to an existing service station at Bascom and Fewtrell submitted by Keith W. Reid. Use permit hearings were scheduled for the Vahl service station plans as well as for Ira Kirkorian's station at San Tomas and Bucknall.

Other plans up for approval: three 4-unit apartments on Echo submitted by Valley Glen Development Co. and an office and industrial building at 190 Dillon submitted by William J. Martin, Jr.

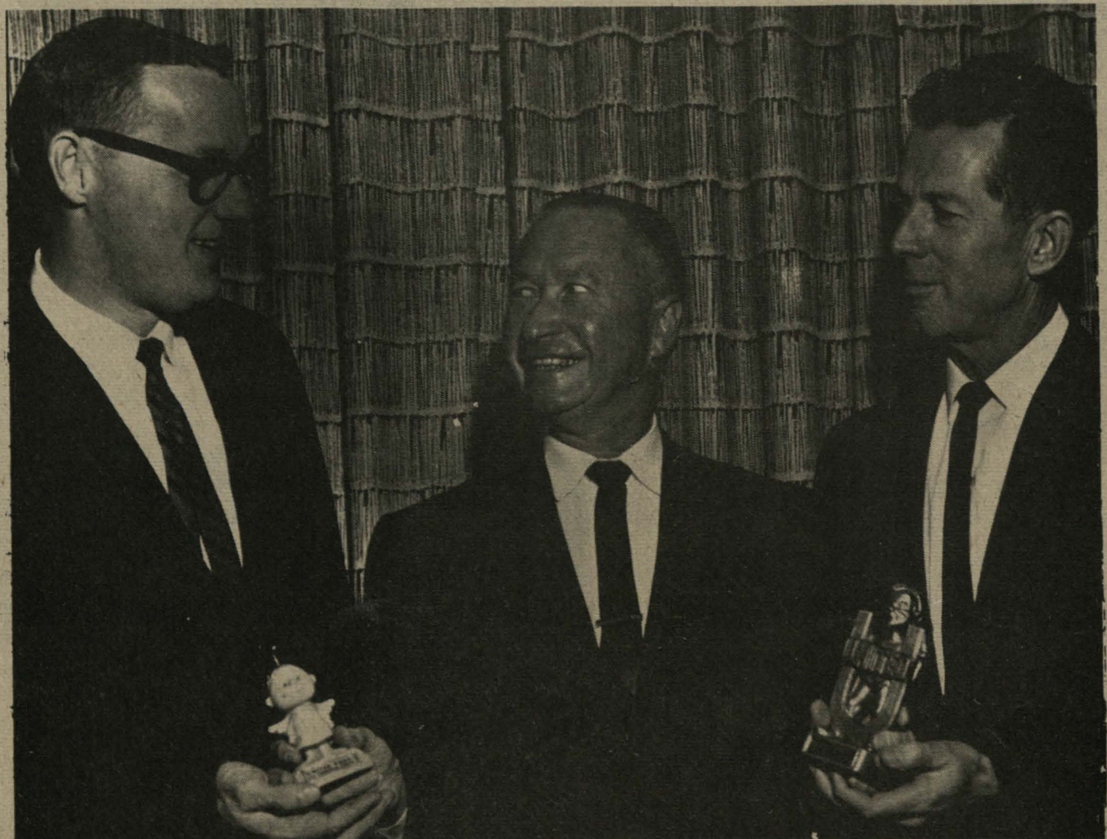
Campbell United Fund drive nets 103% of goal

O.S. Sorenson, Campbell United Fund campaign chairman, triumphantly reports that the local UF appeal has surpassed its goal. Sorenson advised campaign leaders assembled for the Central Area UF chapter's final report that Campbell has collected $29,863 to boost the campaign to 103% of the $29,009 goal.

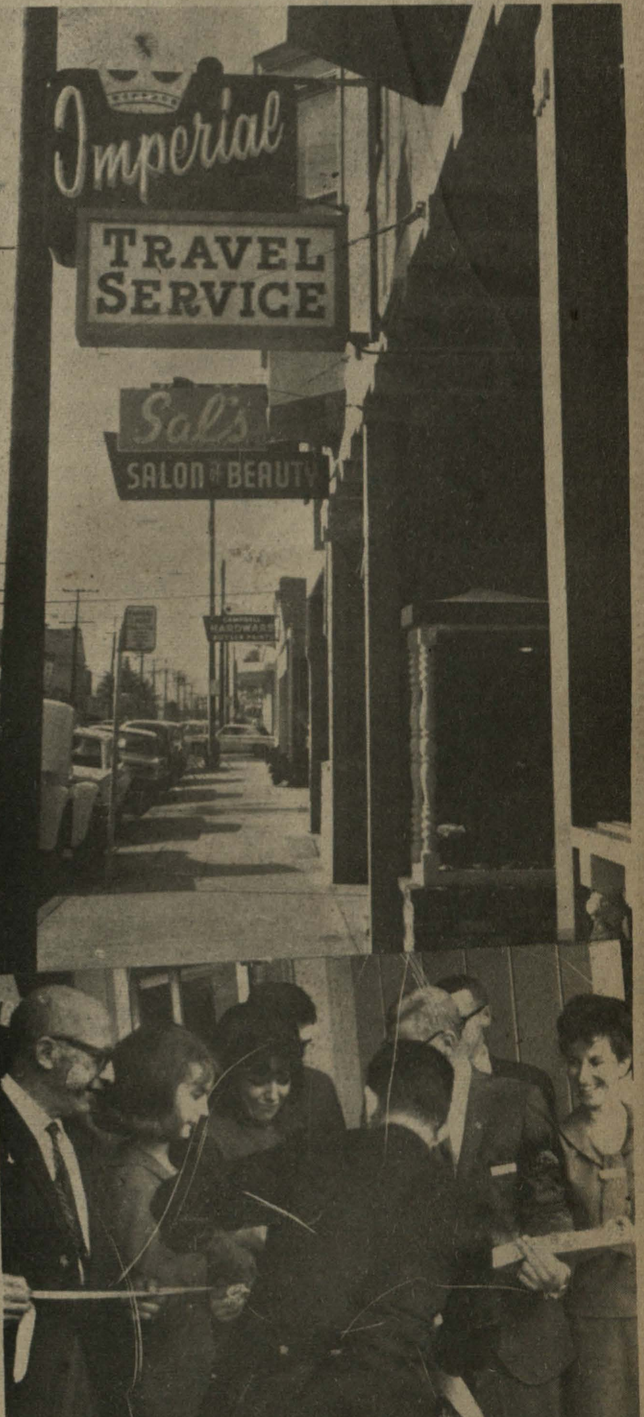
Campbell, thus joins the "winner's circle" of cities who have achieved victory in seeking their goals. Several of the 11 communities in the Central Area chapter have already posted their "wins."

Bart R. van Eck, Central Area FF campaign chairman, advised that there is still quite a bit of work to be done before the chapter can reach its goal of $1,156,766. While the chapter currently stands at 96% of that goal, only a few days remain to raise the necessary $45,690 to reach the goal before the campaign winds up on Nov. 24.

Special awards were distributed by Sorenson to Campbell City Manager Robert C. Stephens and Ron Tharp, personnel manager of IBM Supplies Division for their performances in leading their sections over their goals. Stephens led city employees division, while Tharp was chairman of the Campbell business division.



OVER-THE-TOP--Campbell United Fund Chairman O.S. Sorenson, center, smiles happily as he presents United Fund awards to Ron Tharp, left, Campbell UF business division chairman and Robert C. Stephens, Campbell City Manager and UF chairman of city employees. Tharp received the "good guy" award for his division's achievement of goal, and Stephens was given a "gold oscar" signifying city employees as being the first UF group in Campbell to "go over" their goal.



FIRST FOR CAMPBELL—Imperial Travel Service, at 389 E. Campbell Ave., opened in Campbell last weekend. City and C. of C. officials gathered for the ribbon-cutting that launched the first travel agency to operate in Campbell. Below Paul Landwehr, C. of C. manager, (back to camera) lines up the dignataries for the ribbon-cutting.

Editorial

Enter the "bad guys"

Campbell city officials, if they continue to pursue the course they have initiated in the sticky "Battle of Los Gatos Creek", are bound to be labeled "the bad guys", in the vernacular of the western movies.

But we are in the "bad guys" corner all the way. When the real shooting starts, we hope we can assist by firing a few shots on our own.

For those who have tuned in late, the "Battle of the Creek" refers to the tug-of-war now in progress over a 10-acre parcel of reclaimed land on Los Gatos near Camden Avenue.

The 10-acre plot is part of about 100 acres that was acquired by the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District a few years ago for percolation ponds.

The 10 acres are in excess for what is required for the ponds. So SCVWD directors decided to fill and compact that parcel and offer it for sale to the highest bidder as prime industrial land.

The land adjoins other industrial land. A price tag of $275,000 has been placed on the tract by the water district officials. The parcel all lies within the city limits of Campbell.

Campbell officials contend that the 10-acre section should be retained for parks and recreational purposes as part of the overall development program for Los Gatos Creek. They point out that it adjoins 80-acres of man-made lakes (percolation ponds) which will allow almost 100 acres to be used for recreational purposes.

Water conservation district officials agree with the idea of developing creek land for parks and recreational purposes. They also agree that the 10-acres and the percolation ponds could be put to such use for the benefit of the general public.

They have no quarrel with any other governmental agency purchasing it for park purposes. They say they prefer it that way.

But the district claims it must get $275,000 for it, no matter who buys it.

Water district people admit that the land originally cost only around $5000 per acre. But they say they need the extra money to continue with their conservation projects. They maintain they owe it to their taxpayers to get the most they can for the property.

Campbell officials have been unable to date to enlist the aid of other city or county agencies in their battle to retain the land for park purposes. Campbell people also maintain that the unrealistic price tag prohibits the city from acquiring it.

There has been some moral support for Campbell's stand. But that's about all so far.

So Campbell, after failing to get the county supervisors or county parks and recreation commissioners interested, struck out on its own in a move for which the city is bound to be criticized.

And that's why the label of "bad guys" is going to be attached to Campbell.

Campbell has now served notice that all creek land within the city limits now under public ownership will be rezoned to agriculture which also allows development for parks and recreational uses.

This then, if the rezoning goes into effect, will change the zoning of the controversial 10-acre parcel and prevent that property from being used for industrial purposes.

It will in effect also, of course, force the price down from the $275,000 figure.

We anticipate the fur will fly and mud will be slung at the public hearings that will be conducted on the zoning change. There are to be two different hearings that will have a direct bearing on the situation.

On December 8, the Planning Commission will hold a hearing on "proposed amendments to the Recreation Element and the School and Parks Map of the general plan of the City of Campbell." This procedure describes a definite policy for creek land development as part of the general plan of the city.

On December 22, the Planning Commission will hold the public hearing for the proposed zone changes.

We anticipate that there may be some name-calling at these sessions. It won't be necessary for Campbell officials to wear the traditional black hats of the movies to indicate who are the "bad guys" in this particular drama.

At least as far as the water conservation district and its allies are concerned.

But the big question in our mind seems to be just who should be called the "bad guys" in the "Battle of the Creek".

City Hall briefs

Campbell's City Council meets Monday, November 23, at 8 p.m. Council members are expected to discuss their next step in the controversial 10-acre Los Gatos Creek parcel hassle. The battle started when the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District announced it was going to sell the 10 acres for industrial land for $275,000. Campbell wants the land retained for park use. But not at that price.

A rezoning move has been started by the city which would change the present zoning from industrial to agriculture.

District holds dedication for Hazelwood today

Hazelwood School will be formally dedicated at 2 o'clock today, in the school cafetorium. The staff and the student body cordially invite the public to attend. Trustee John Merriell will give the dedication address. A short talk will be made by Chester Root of the firm of Higgins and Root, architects of the school. Students will also participate in the program.

Hazelwood opened for classes in September 1963, but the administration wing and two additions were completed May 23 of that year. The school accomodates 860 students, from kindergarten through sixth grade. It is the largest school in the Campbell Union School District.

The school has 22 regular class rooms, and four special center rooms for shared use.

The Hazelwood Glee Club, the Roundaliers, will present songs and a choral reading at today's dedication.

OUR SUGGESTION in this column several weeks ago that it would be fitting for the City Council meetings to open with the flag salute as well as a prayer apparently bore fruit at the last council meeting.

Mayor Charles Rose caught most people a little off-guard when he said "And now Councilman Smeed will lead us in the flag salute"...

And Bill did a good job of it. Admittedly there was a little stumbling at the "under God" part. But practice should smooth that out.

We hope it becomes a regular thing.

We also suggested, if you recall, that the city hall needs a flag and flag pole. It is one of the rare public buildings that we have observed over which Old Glory does not wave.

We also have a sneaking hunch that this may soon be corrected.

We take the blame almost as much as city officials for this apparent oversight.

How come we waited eight years to say something about it?

BIG GAME TIME is with us this weekend.

It is a time when old grads come out of the woodwork and urge on their alma mater to greater heights... In most cases it makes no difference on the standings of the two teams. In the traditional classic the dope book is tossed away.

CRAIG MORTON, Campbell High's outstanding contribution to the collegiate gridiron world, is being pushed for All-American honors because of his record-breaking performance for Cal. With no Rose Bowl in the offing for Cal, the Stanford game this Saturday will conclude Craig's great collegiate career.

JACK SCHRAUB, another Campbell High grad and a long-time buddy of Craig's, dating back to the Campbell elementary grades, has also starred for the Bear varsity. His pass-catching ability has done much to bolster Craig's phenomenal pass-throwing achievements.

BILL MEANS, of Campbell Drugs, a Cal alumnus who has been active for years in "selling" Cal to prospective grid warriors, played a leading role in getting Craig and Jack to cavort for the Bears.

For years Bill also served voluntarily as trainer for the Campbell football team.

Bill is the proud recipient of two recent photographs of Campbell's college stars, Jack and Craig.

The personal messages on the pictures written to Bill by the two grid stalwarts on the pictures clearly show that neither one has forgotten Bill's efforts on their behalf both in and out of school.

Bill will be at the Big Game this Saturday. He has missed few in all the years since he was an undergraduate.

But this one will have a greater meaning to him than any of those in the past.

Injured driver flees accident

Robert C. Diffenderfer, 19, 13005 Quito Road, was apprehended in a Campbell trailer park after fleeing from his wrecked overturned car on Highway 17 freeway November 15.

Campbell Police said Diffenderfer had left the scene of the accident and was found hiding behind a trailer. He would give no reason for running away, and was treated at Campbell Community Hospital for minor injuries. Police are investigating.

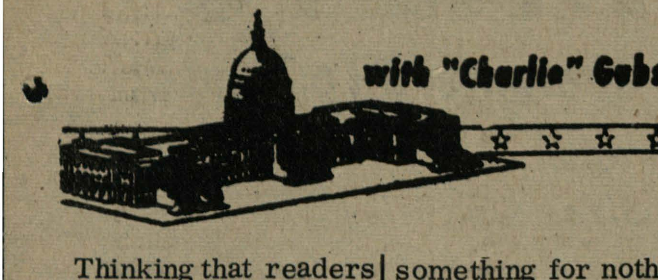
ON CAPITOL HILL



with "Charlie" Gubser

Thinking that readers of "ON CAPITOL HILL" might welcome a change of pace from the rash of postelection analyses and speculations about the future of the Republican Party, this week's edition is a reprint of portions of one of the most thought provoking radio programs I have ever heard. Last summer I heard the Earl Nightingale Program on the subject, "The New Job Seeker", was impressed, and wrote for a copy. Permission to reprint has been granted.

"I was having lunch the other day with a couple of fairly prominent businessmen, and we got on the subject of people who come looking for work. A lot of them could be better described as people looking for benefits—or something for nothing.

"One of my friends told the story of the young man, fresh out of school, who had come into his office to be interviewed for a job. All of a sudden the employer realized that it was he who was being interviewed. The young man was asking about such things as hours, wages, raises, vacations, retirement plans, fringe benefits, etc., when my friend finally was able to stop him and get in a sentence of his own. He said to the young man, 'Whoa--wait a minute. You're being interviewed so that I can find out what you're going to do for us!

"Well--he might have just as well cracked this young fellow over the head with a ball-peen hammer. He said the man got a strange, confused look on his face, and while his jaws were working -- there weren't any words coming out. Somehow, this man and many thousands like him, have the idea that accepting a job is some kind of wondrous favor they are conferring upon the lucky company of their choice; their sole responsibility is to select the company that can offer them the most.

"...It's obvious that these people are in for a rude awakening. It's just as obvious that they've never bothered to learn the first law of economics; Our returns in life must be in exact ratio to our contributions. Life is not a one-way street. A company—a job--cannot for long give us more than we're earning in good, honest, down-to-earth work. Anybody who's getting more than he's earning must be in for a rude awakening soonor or later -- it has to come, because that's the way the ball bounces every time...

"The government, industry, the company—none of these are responsible for our economic well being. It is we as individuals who are responsible.

"Anybody looking for a job should figure out what it is he is bringing to the company he wants to hire him. After he has decided what he has to offer, he can then start checking into what the company has to offer. Of one thing he can be sure; he cannot long receive more than he's giving. If he expects a perpetual Christmas, he has simply never grown up intellectually or emotionally.

"If a man doesn't like his income these days, all he has to do is take a long, searching look at his contribution. What is he doing for his job--that someone else couldn't do? It's an interesting thought, isn't it?"

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

By Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q.-Last month I was injured and have little prospect of returning to work. I understand I cannot receive disability benefits until I have been disabled at least six months, but if I then qualify for payments, there will be no reduction in the payment because I am under age 65. I am 64 years of age and could apply for reduced payments without waiting. I need the money --what should I do?

A.-You should contact your Social Security Office immediately for a full explanation of the rules involved. You will be given an estimate of the amount of payments under the disability provision and also the reduced benefit provision of the law. You can then figure in dollars and cents how long you will be ahead by receiving reduced benefits. In some cases, applications based on both age and disability may be to your advantage, which will also be explained.

Q.-When I applied for social security benefits, my estimate of this year's earnings was "less than $1200" and I have been getting my checks ever since the first of the year. I based this estimate on my last year's net earnings from self-employment, of $1000. Business is good, though, and I think I might net anywhere between $1400 and $1900, depending on the last part of the year. Should I change my estimate at this time or let it go until the end of the year?

A.-It would be best if you made this revised estimate now rather than waiting until the end of the year. By submitting this new estimate, you will stop your checks for the remainder of this year and avoid any possible overpayment. When you submit your annual report for this year, we can determine if you were overpaid or if too many checks were withheld, and an adjustment will be made, if necessary.

Q.-I'm in business for myself. How do I get social security credit for my earnings?

A.-You report your earnings for social security purposes on your regular income tax return and send it to the Internal Revenue Service. Be sure that your name, nature of business, social security number, and net profit are shown on the social security part (Schedule SE) of your tax return.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK MAROTTI

The Frank Marottis celebrate sixty years

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marotti of Campbell were the guests of honor at a delightful dinner party recently in celebration of the couple's sixtieth wedding anniversary. The Marotti's were married November 1, 1904 in Calabria, Italy. Before coming to Campbell in 1958, the family resided in Hibbing, Minnesota.

The Italian style banquet was held at Piazza's Delicatessan on Moorpark Avenue. A beautiful wedding cake was cut and served by the happy couple. Among the guests at the anniversary party were the couple's sons, Louis Marotti, and Nick Marotti, and families. Also Messers and Mesdames Michael Iaizzo, Clyde Hamilton, Bert Mattioli, Baldo Ragnacci and Mrs. Theresa Hadams. Unable to attend from Hibbing, Minnesota, were the couple's two daughters, Mrs. Antoinette Tomaino and Mrs. William Soroko. The Marotti's have eight grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren. The couple's son, Louis Marotti, is football coach at Camden High School.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By Dolores Keywood

Eye brows are as important to your eyes as frames are to pictures. If the wrong frame is used, it may distract from the picture or create a different feeling than intended.

The shape of your face, the space between the eyes and shape of your eyes determines how and if you should reshape your eye brows.

However, no eyebrows should be shaped like half moons, be of straight horizontial line or be lower than the eye itself.

If the face is narrow, the arch should be slight to add width. For the broad face, arch should be emphasized.

For eyes that are set far apart, the eye brow should start a little before the eye. This will tend to make eyes appear closer together. Needless to say, the opposite applies to those eyes that are set too close. If the eye brow is just a bit off from the start of the eye, the eyes will appear wider set. Normally the eye and the eye brows should start at the same point.

To tweeze, there are a few rules to remember; never pluck hairs from the top part of the brow; always cleanse eye brow area first, and apply alcohol to this same area with a cotton ball; dip tweezers in alcohol before using and last and most important, be certain you know what shape brow is for you. If in doubt, consult an expert.

When using pencil, black should be avoided except in the case of jet black hair. Your eye brows should be very close to your hair color. And to acquire the natural look, the pencil must have a good point and you must use short, light, feathery strokes. Try to imitate the hairs that are already there and eliminate solid, continuous, artificial looking lines.

Eye brows should be groomed just as the hair on your head so an eye brow brush is needed. Brush before applying pencil and immediately afterward for a soft, blended, natural, look.

Remember, the frame is only to enhance the picture.

Most sailing ships would lose their crew from scurvy. Captain Cook experimented by adding lemons and limes to the rations. Not one man was lost after that from scurvy. This earned the British sailor the nickname "Limey."

Burglars pried open the rear door of Economy Lumber Company, 720 Camden Avenue during the night of November 11 and took a small amount of cash and an adding machine. Sgt. Ron Eddlemon of the Campbell Police Department is investigating.

New five minute dryer developed

Gone are the days of sitting under a hot dryer for 30 to 45 minutes... of spending anywhere from 1 1/2 to 2 hours for a regular beauty appointment. And, the thing that has banished all this fol de rol in fashion is the sensational new Royal Jetstream Dryer...which is in use at the La Petite Beauty Salon, 2709 Union Avenue.

This fascinating new machine cuts drying time from a full hour to just 5 or 6 minutes! Although the air used in the dryer is slightly warmer than a regular dryer -- the patron feels no heat at all! And with the Jetstream Dryer, a lady can have a shampoo, set and be dried and combed out in a sophisticated new holiday fashion in just 30 to 40 magic minutes!

The new Jetstream Dryer looks very much like a modern piece of furniture, yet with 30 bright, clear air tubes protruding from its head, this new Dryer is highly attractive. These 30 tubes are attached to the center core of each roller, and once in place, the heat is turned on and the drying process begins. There is also a special pin curl drying band, where pin curls are used. A boon to the working girl, the busy housewife and clubwoman, the new Jetstream Dryer can be seen and used at the La Petite Salon, 377-5444.

WVJC testing dates announced

The first of three admission testing dates for new students planning to enroll for the second semester at West Valley College has been set for 8:30 a.m., December 12, in the college auditorium, according to Dean of Counseling and Guidance Arnold Edman.

An aptitude test and the English placement test will be given to all entering students. Dean Edman emphasized that a particular level of achievement on the tests is not a condition of enrollment, but that the tests results will be used for counseling purposes.

Two other dates have been set for admission tests -- January 16 at 8:30 a.m. and January 20 at 7 p.m.; however, Dean Edman urged that students make every effort to take the tests on the December 12 date.

Agricultural census begins

Mrs. Jayne O'Reilly of Campbell has been appointed census crew leader for the 1964 Census of Agriculture in Santa Clara County. The job will be done in three stages, according to Mrs. O'Reilly.

First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all the farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed. Shortly after November 19 the Bureau of the Census will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionaires to all rural boxholders in the county.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionaires. At the time of the visits, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions they may have had difficulty with.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years to gather up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production.

Christmas Seals are in the mail

Annual Christmas Seals Campaign of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis & Health Association will begin next week when 186,000 letters containing seals will be in the mails, according to Dr. Carleton Wright, president.

The annual drive begins, Dr. Wright emphasized, in an atmosphere where tuberculosis and respiratory diseases are still scourging mankind, and during a period of intensified, costly research.

Great strides have been made in the finding, diagnosing and treatment of many of these ills, Dr. Wright pointed out. We now know, for example, how to more accurately use tuberculin for skin-testing, and how to do careful chest X-rays to discover whether a newly-active case of tuberculosis has started.

Cecil Reid, manager of San Jose Reid-Hillview Airport, is this year's Christmas Seals campaign chairman. National chairman of the drive is Betsy Palmer, noted TV personality.

Hospital offers special x-ray training course

Young men and women in the Campbell area who wish to become x-ray technicians are invited to enroll for a two-year training course in x-ray technology at San Jose Hospital.

The course has been set up to help meet a growing demand for registered x-ray technicians. Graduates will be qualified to take the examination given by the American Registry of X-Ray Technicians.

No tuition fee will be charged students and a monthly stipend will be paid to help defray their expenses.

The instruction program will include classroom work and practical experience in all phases of radiology, and the course will be given under direction of radiologists on the San Jose Hospital staff. Staff radiologists include Doctors Harding Rees, Dan W. Clark, Charles Holtfrater, Frank Wiefels and Gary Katz.

Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 30 and must have completed four years of high school or its equivalent. Preference will be given applicants who have a school background in science--courses in physics, [illegible]ology, etc.

Classes start January 5, and interested persons are urged to apply at once, as enrollment is limited. Registration will be first-come, first-served, and will close when the class is filled.

Del Mar whips Campbell 14-0

Del Mar High got on the scoreboard twice in the first half against Campbell High last Friday and then by tight defensive play kept Campbell from scoring the rest of the game. The final count was 14-0.

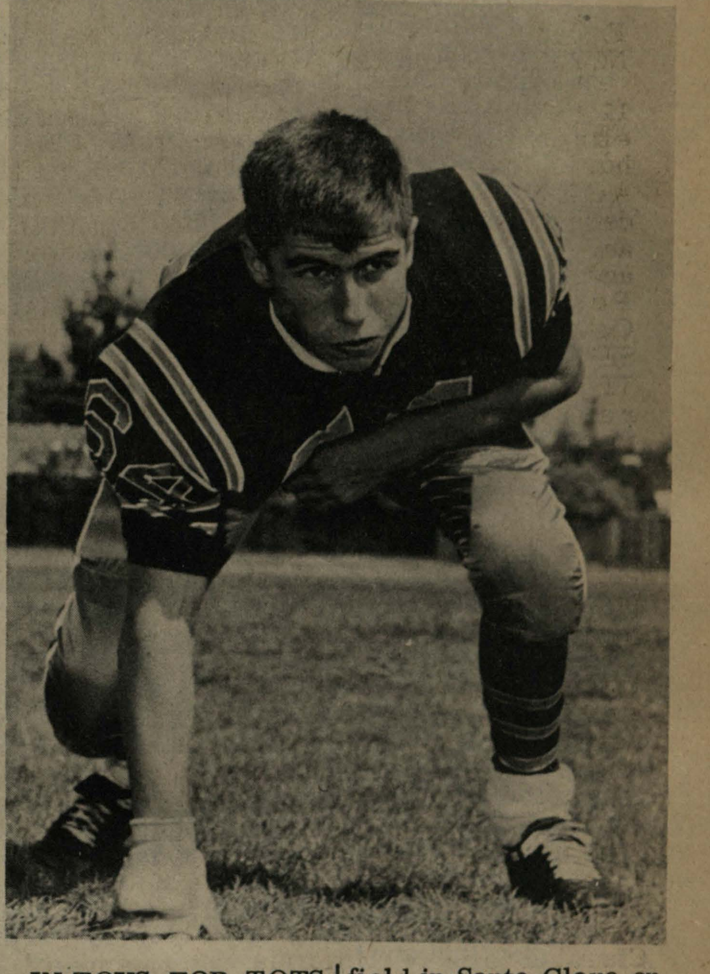
Del Mar's first score came after a pass interference call gave the Dons a first down deep in Campbell's territory with only 20 seconds to go in the first period. Rich Campbell scored from the six-yard line on a pass from Bob Bronzan. Bronzan also place-kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, a blocked punt set up the second Del Mar score. Del Mar got the ball on the six and Dave Rodarte rolled out to score. Bronzan again kicked the PAT and that ended the scoring for the day.

Campbell threatened a number of times in the second half. The muddy field hurt Campbell's end-sweep plays. Twice the Bucs were halted at the 10-yard line.

Buc standouts in the game included Mike Malone, Dave Maas, Gary Robinson, Don Hahn and Frank Marotti.

Tom Greenley was the outstanding defensive player for Del Mar and was largely responsible for thwarting the Bucs' scoring threats.



IN TOYS-FOR-TOTS BOWL--Steve Cunningham (above) a Del Mar High student will co-captain the Hornets' team in the third annual Toys-for-Tots Bowl game at the Buck Shaw field in Santa Clara on Saturday, November 28. Children will be admitted to the game by bringing a toy. The Hornets will play the undefeated Pittsburg Mallards. The game is part of the USMC reserves' annual drive for Toys for Tots. As an added feature, the Hornet Bees will host El Cajon Falcons in a preliminary.

Up the creek

County supervisors last week turned down the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District's offer of $275,000 for a 10-acre parcel of land on Los Gatos Creek near Camden Avenue.

The supervisors said that the price was out-of-line by water district officials claim that their funds are depleted and they need the money from the sale of the land to continue their projects.

Campbell officials appealed to the board to take steps to retain the land for park purposes, Campbell has announced also that rezoning has been initiated for the parcel that would prevent the land from being sold for industrial purposes. In effect, also this would force the price down.

Condition of injured girl is critical

The condition of Lorraine Lawton, seventeen year old Westmont High School cheer leader, injured in an automobile accident on the Santa Cruz Highway recently, remains critical. She is confined to the Intensive Care Unit at Los Gatos Community Hospital.

According to the California Highway Patrol and Officer Elwyn Block, Lorraine was a passenger in the car of John Frederick Willet, 18. The couple was returning from a Westmont-Santa Cruz football game, October 30. Willet apparently lost control of the car when it began to slide on a curve in the light rain and hit the bank.

Willet has been discharged from the hospital following treatment for minor lacerations and bruises. Lorraine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lawton, 14141 Sobey Road, Saratoga.

St Lucy's adds evening mass

Beginning Sunday, November 29, all Catholic Masses in the Diocese will be in English instead of the traditional Latin, by order of Archbishop Joseph P. McGlucken of San Francisco. The change to English was ordered as a result of recent decisions made at the Ecumenical Conference in Rome.

St. Lucy's Catholic Church, 2350 Winchester Boulevard, has added an evening mass to their Sunday schedule. Starting Sunday, November 29, mass will also be held at 7 p.m. Daytime Sunday Masses have been rescheduled as follows: 7:00 - 8:30 -9:45-11:00 A.M., 12:15 and 7:00 P.M. The mass schedule has been changed due to the extra time needed for English Masses and because of heavy traffic in the area.

FICTION:
THE LOVE SONG OF MARA LUMERA
By Denti Di Pirajno

This gripping novel about the Sicilian mafia is a story of deathless love and implacable hatred and physical violence. It is the story of a fiery young widow who, through intrigue, guile, and her own feminine wiles, becomes queen of the mafia, the soft-voiced, iron-willed beauty, whom even the most vicious under—world rulers feared and respected. Violence and passion are tempered by the prevailing irony and literary art of Denti di Pirajno.

INSTANT GOLD By Frank O'Rourke

One foggy Monday morning in November, the proprietors of three shops on Billman Place off Grant in San Francisco discover that the vacant shop had been renovated over the weekend. The window formerly showcasing objects d'art was now backdrooped in royal blue velvet, which framed a sixteen inch shadowbox of polished walnut containing one small yellow can. Discreet lower-case lettering etched upon the plate glass stated simply --"Instant Gold". What happens makes a story to be remembered with pleasure.

ROAD TO NINEVAH By Mrs. N.G. Benjamin

WVJC student wins praise for "motto"

A 20-year old West Valley Junior College student, Jack Stuckrath of Sunnyvale, has come up with a bit of prose that has been variously described as "classical," "outstanding," and "tremendous" by the Board of Trustees.

The creation is a four-line "motto" which has been officially adopted as part of the constitution which the Board has approved, of the Associated Students. The text:

"As goes the youth, so goes the nation;
As goes the nation, so goes the world;
As goes the world, so goes all of mankind;
So we must be worthy, for we are the youth."

When asked exactly what he meant to convey by the quatrain, Stuckrath said;

"We are a democratic society, wherein the powers are vested in the individual. In this age of nuclear destruction, individual responsibility was never so great. All I meant to convey was the extreme importance of the individual."

Stuckrath said a number of persons have asked him if he got the idea for his motto from the time-honored "All for the Want of a Ten-Penny Nail." He said he has never heard of it.

A son of a retired Navy officer, Stuckrath said that in the course of 13 years of schooling, he has attended 27 different schools both in the United States and abroad. His aim in life is to become a successful painter of stained glass windows. He is now an apprentice in the stained glass window "factory" of his uncle and grandfather, Cummings Studios, in San Francisco. He is understandably an art major at West Valley.

Folksong star comes to civic on November 25

Bob Dylan, the young singer-composer who has emerged as the ideological leader for the folksong faction, will take over the stage of the San Jose Civic Auditorium when he gives a concert on Wednesday evening, November 25 at 8:30.

The young man with a guitar and the explosive, haunting style of singing is the most unusual new talent in American folk music. A strong influence on Bob Dylan was comedian Charlie Chaplin.

One of Bob Dylan's best known songs is perhaps "Blowin' In The Wind" which was recorded by Peter, Paul and Mary and shot to the top of the best selling record charts. Many songs sung by Joan Baez in her concerts were written by Bob Dylan. Dylan's own long play albums are top sellers.

Tickets for the Bob Dylan concert are on sale at Wendell Watkins Box Office, located in Sherman Clay, 89 South First Street, San Jose, 10:30 to 5:30 daily except Saturday and Sunday.

MORE ABOUT

and allow the unblocking of the two streets was made by Ted Regas, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee. Mayor Charles Rose, a member of the county group, also spoke in favor of the modification.

The C. of C. was instrumental in getting the City Council to pass a resolution in September requesting the opening of the two streets. The City Council last year had approved the original agreement that closed the streets.

Merchants and civic leaders, supported by many residents, presented a united front to the City Council in opposition to the closing of Latimer and Rincon. They claim that this road block would divide the town and would be detrimental to the community's business health and this would affect the city's revenue because of sales tax decline.

They also claimed that while Campbell would have only three crossings (Budd, Campbell and Hamilton) Santa Clara was getting 14. That, they maintain, refuted the biggest argument against the opening of the two streets. Members of the Trafficways Committee have argued that openings on the expressway should not be less than a half mile apart.

City officials were disappointed in the reception given their appeal. They recognize also that it would be financially impossible for the city to pay for overpasses, even should the Trafficways Committee allow them.

Mayor Rose indicated that the city will have to adopt a "wait and see" attitude until after the expressway is opened. Traffic bottlenecks might then force the streets to be opened, he predicted.

Rose also expressed bitterness over the way Campbell has been forced to "go it alone" on almost every occasion when countywide projects are involved. "We apparently are orphans" and we have to live with it," the mayor added.

REAPPOINTED----Lynn Beatty, general manager of Western Gravel Company, in Campbell, has been reappointed by Governor Edmund G. Brown to the San Francisco Bay Region Water Polution Control Board.. Beatty was originally appointed to the board in 1960 for a four year term.

School district okays Hamilton right-of-way

Campbell Union School District board of trustees granted to the City of Campbell a right of way frontage along Rosemary School for the purpose of widening Hamilton Avenue. The action was taken at their board meeting Thursday following a public hearing at which there were no protests.

The board of trustees decided to sell $935,000 worth of bonds in December, in order to remain qualified for state aid and to be able to continue planning for future schools and additions; and to purchase needed school sites.

The trustees adopted a basic course of study for the school year 1964-65 that was prepared jointly by the counties of Santa Clara, Contra Costa, Alameda and Marin.

In other affirmative actions, they accepted Monroe School Addition #2 and Capri School Addition #1 as substantially complete.

The board decided to have architects Higgins and Root draw up plans and specifications for a change in the drainage system at Sherman Oaks School, so as to drain the school ground to the storm drain installed along Fruitdale Avenue.

Permits take big drop from previous year

Only 15 building permits were issued in Campbell during October compared to 34 in the same month last year. The total valuation dropped $377,803 below October, 1963.

October's permits of $127,417 was the lowest in volume in any month in 1964.

For one of the first time in the city's history, no permits were issued during the month for dwelling units, either single-family or apartments.

Two warehouse-offices and a restaurant made up the greatest portion of the permit total. Winchester Plumbing, 176 Gilman, was issued a permit for $48,000 for a warehouse office and B. F. Stonehocker, 555 Westchester, received one for the same type of building for $32,808.

Dairy Queen, at 2255 Winchester, was issued a permit for a restaurant for $20,808.

Other permits were generally for remodeling and additions. A swimming pool permit for $1,995 was issued to Leopold Delroot at 958 LaPlata Plaza.

Other permits included, Richfield Oil Campany, 1380 W. Campbell, sign, $700; San Jose Blueprint, 1210 Camden, sign, $700; Kieth's Auto-Brake, 1970 S. Bascom, sign, $175; Darling, Fischer, Faber (Campbell Memorial), remodeling, $11,000; Toshihiko Kaneko, 221 Hardy, patio cover, $522; Cupertino Nursery, 700 Almarida, addition, $693; Andrew Buzzetta, 185 Rex Circle, remodel, $4,000; County Sheet Metal, 140-A N. Harrison, partitions, $1,250; Neal Jones, 104 Hardy, addition, $5,564.

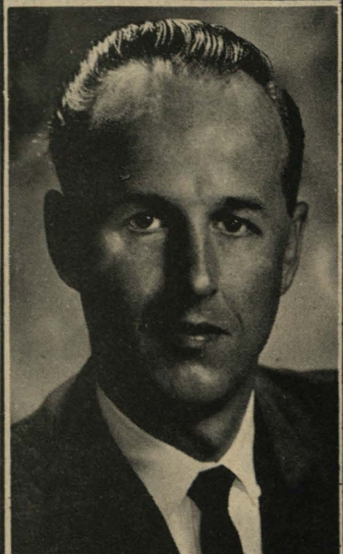
Blossom Hill Oratorio Society offers concert at local church

The oratorio "Sacred Service (Avodath Hakodesh)" by Ernest Bloch will be presented by the Blossom Hill Oratorio Society and Orchestra at the Campbell Congregational Church on November 22 at 8 p.m.

The concert will be given in conjunction with the 75th anniversary of the Congregational Church of Campbell and in memorium of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The ensemble is under the direction of David Wilson, with the role of the Cantor being sung by Wally Bekowies, baritone. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The 60-voice chorus was formed in 1963 and was at that time under the auspices of the Adult Education Program. Wilson, now head of the Fine Arts Department at Gunn High School in Palo Alto, formerly taught music at Leigh High School.



PROMOTED--Dale E. Ehlman has been elevated to the position of Assistant Cashier of the Community Bank of San Jose, according to Ainslie A. Slodden, bank president. The new bank officer joined the institution in June, 1964. The bank last week celebrated its first anniversary.
